Hi.

Is this a defect of Wiki Extensions?

#2 - 03/15/2013 09:41 PM - Miodrag Milic

No, it's a wish.

Feature would be something like

foo bar #hidden text here# foo bar

which would be viewable by people who have permission to "view hidden text".

It could be used for passwords and sensitive data.

Sorry for not setting tracker to "Feature"

- Tracker changed from Defect to Feature
- Project changed from r-labs to Wiki Extensions
- Assignee set to Haru Iida

Thanks for your request.

    Sorry for not setting tracker to "Feature"

No problem.

- Target version changed from 0.6.3 to Unplanned

It's an interesting idea, but there is a problem.

Anyone can see a history of wiki page.
And the history page shows raw wiki text of the page. So anyone can see hidden texts.

No, Anyone can not see wiki history. There is permission for that: "View wiki history".
So in order to keep the data private the one would need to disable "View wiki history" for a group and disable "View hidden text" at the same time. Not a big deal IMO, given the benefits.
